The Olympic torch

The Olympic torch was used for the first time at the Amsterdam Olympics Netherlands in 1928. In 1936 Berlin, Germany the torch was relayed for the first time. The flame is lit in Olympia, Greece where the Olympics began. The London Olympic torch for the 2012 games has 3 sides, it is the number of times London has had the Olympics.